Bring your family here to walk, climb and go boating. Described as India's Lake District, this is a place of serene lakes surrounded by thick forests with rich birdlife in northern India's Uttarkhand state. The Boat Club, set up in 1890 is a hub of activity. There's golf at the Governor's House. Visit the wonderfully named gothic church, St John-in-the-Wilderness. For stunning views stand on Dorothy's Seat atop Ayarpata Hill. Last but not least, stay at Abbotsford, this lovely stately home is at once beautiful, comfortable and fascinating. Owned for four generations by the Prasada family, this house is steeped in Indian history, and the owners just happen to be in India's Who's Who.
